DRIVE ON LEMBERG IS CHECKED

HEAD-ON COLLISION AT SPRINGVALE

Several Persons Injured in Atlantic
Shore Ry. Crash When Freight
Rams Passenger Car.

Seven passengers were injured and several others badly shaken up when an open passenger car on the Atlantic Shore railway from Springvale to Sanford and a motor drawing two empty freight cars came together head-on just below the Boston and Maine gravel pit switch at Springvale on Friday afternoon.

The injured: Maurice Gumpert, wool sorter, 8 Cottage street, Sanford, compound dislocation of left ankle; foot amputated tonight.

Allen Jayeline Snow of Rockland, president of senior class Nassau Institute, severe scalp wounds, body and limbs bruised.

Mrs. Edith Tibbitts, 22 Riverside avenue, Sanford, internal injuries, scalp wound.

Miss Lena Prescott, student, Nassau Institute, 7 Maple street, Sanford, head and face cut by glass, badly bruised.

Miss Elmer D. Bennett 9 Meusam street, Sanford, spine injured.

Miss Helen Brownell, student, Nassau Institute, Malden, Mass., arms bruised.

Valerie Tuttle Exeter, N. H., student Nassau Institute, back and head bruised.

Frank McCann, Sanford, motorman on passenger car, badly shaken up.

Thomas Chasson, Sanford motorman on freight train, cut and badly shaken up.

The accident was evidently due to a misunderstanding of orders. The freight motor, driven by Thomas Chasson was sent out from Sanford at about 1.30 with instructions to leave the main track at the gravel pit switch. The passenger car in charge of Conductor John Sawyer and Motorman Frank W. McCann, should have been stopped above the gravel pit until the freight motor came up. The collision occurred a few seconds after the passenger car running down grade on a slippery rail, had rounded a curve above the switch. The passenger car was demolished.

The impact was so tremendous that the supports to the roof of the open car were broken and the top came down on the heads of 19 passengers in the car.

The two motormen with several of the 19 passengers, jumped before the collision. All were badly shaken.

General Manager L. H. McCray, who came up from Kennebunk soon after the accident stated that the affair will be given a thorough investigation, probably by the Public Utilities Commission, in order to fix the blame.

Russian Forces Have Stopped the Austro-German Army in Their Offensive and are Driven Back

(Special to The Herald)

Petrograd, June 12.—Further important successes for the Russians all along the line are announced in an official communication issued by the Russian war office today. In the northern sphere of operations from the Dubissa river to Beisagola, the Russians have assumed the offensive. Attempts of the Austro-German army of General von Mackensen to push eastward from Mosciska to Lvov (Lemberg) have been stopped short by the Russians.

The Austro-German army of General von Mackensen, whose drive northward toward Lemberg was checked on the east bank of the Dniester, has been compelled to retire, giving up booty to the pursuing Russians.

In the eastern arena of hostilities the whole of the 5th company of the 79th regiment of the Austrian army was captured. The retirement of the Russian forces across the river Pruth was made necessary at Stanislaw, but northwest of this district in the vicinity of Ottynia, which lies on the railroad line running from Stanislaw to Kolomea, the Russians were successful and 1100 prisoners were taken.

ENTIRE DIVISION DESTROYED

(Special to The Herald)

Petrograd, June 12.—A whole Austro-German army division in defense of their position on the Dniester River in Galicia is reported as being destroyed by the Russian forces in Galicia. The entire right wing has been obliterated and 6,000 Austrian and German soldiers were killed in the battle at Mosciska, between Tarnopol and Lemberg. During the artillery duel in that town a German general in command of the division was wounded and 12 other officers, members of his staff, were hit by the flying fragments of a shell which exploded near them.

COUNTRY NOW EXPECTS PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT

Expects That Note Will Be Sent to Great Britain and Allies Asking That Bread Blockade Be Discontinued.

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, June 12.—The United States and Germany are in a fair way towards an amicable, mutually honorable settlement, at their grave differences. The accepted view today in official and diplomatic Washington is that the German note, which has been received from Berlin, has not escaped serious criticism and it is understood that his actions at this time are not wholly pleasing to the people of the country or the officials of Washington.

While Germany considers the second American note, one that demands serious consideration it is thought that this government will send a note to Great Britain and her allies seeking a change in the conditions in the bread blockade now existing, to conform with the recognized principles of international law. GAME CALLED

RAIN SPOILED FINE GAME

What promised to be one of the best baseball games played on the South Play Grounds was spoiled last night when the weather man turned on the water works. The U. S. S. Montana team and the Knights of Columbus started their game but it was all over before the third inning was completed. No runs had been scored so some fine ball playing went for nothing.

The game opened up fast and it looked like a run for the sailors in the first inning when Hamilton was on third. Thompson attempted to steal second, figuring that Bailey wouldn't take a chance at pegging, but the ball went to the bag in big league style and the side was retired. Each pitcher was fouled for two hits and neither gave away any free transportation. It is out of the question to figure the winner had the game been completed, as both teams were going strong and the only error made was one by Wilkinson in the first inning. Had he been a slower man the ball wouldn't have been stopped at all and would have been a scratch hit. Wilkinson made a good stop of a mean bouncer but was out of his position and the batter was safe.

The Game

1st Inning.—Letch hit to short and was out at first. P. Timmons to Wilkinson. Moser fanned. Hamilton hit to Wilkinson and was safe at first. Thompson singled to right advancing Hamilton to third. Thompson was out standing. J. Bailey to P. Bailey. No runs.

J. Timmons was thrown out at first. Letch to Argue. Wilkinson went out the same way. P. Bailey singled to left. Reardon was struck out. No runs. 2nd Inning.—Bennett fanned. Bryan fied out to P. Bailey. Argue hit to the pitcher and was out Horan to Wilkinson. No runs.

O'Brien singled to left but was caught napping off first. Hamilton to Argue. T. Timmons fanned. J. Bailey was thrown out. Letch to Hamilton. No runs.

3rd Inning.—Skee singled to deep short and was out clearing second. J. Bailey to P. Bailey. Norris fanned. Letch fied out to J. Timmons. No runs.

Hamilton caught P. Timmons's foul fly. Horan fanned. Game called on account of rain. The summary:

ered after the contest with Willie Ritchie.

A Boston referee will be in the ring. Wolgast is satisfied that he will get just as fair treatment from a local man as any man he might import from New York or Philadelphia. He says Young Donohue, Maffitt Flaherty or Jack Sheehan will suit him. The same view is taken by Gallant, and one of the three men will be in the roped square Tuesday when the instructions are to be given out.

Mike Glover has been training Gallant and some animated boxing has resulted from their camp combats.

MINUTES IN MANHATTAN

New York, June 11.—The soft pedal is on our cabarets, tango parlors, trotteries and "the dancin'." Scandal has done what the law, the clergy and all the righteous crusaders failed to do; it has put the lid on public and promiscuous dancing.

It was the Eugene Kelly episode, to which I referred last week, that did it. Miss Kelly, heiress to millions, became reconciled with her mother, the incorrigible charge was dropped and the tango queen has shaken the dust of Main street from her pumps. At least for a time, but the affair cast a damper on the Gay White Way that likely will have a permanent effect.

One big place, the Strand roof garden, atop the huge moving picture theatre at Forty-seventh street has closed. Miss Elizabeth Marbury, its owner and Miss Anne Morgan, its sponsor, indignantly deny that adverse criticism caused the shut-down. They say that poor business caused them to discontinue the resort, but Broadwayites nod their heads sagely and look wise. If criticism did not put the Strand roof garden out of the running, the near-panic caused by the Kelly case made the tangoers fenny and made business so poor that the place could not keep open.

The tango bars, the gilded youths and the professional men about town have been very scarce in the Langue Square neighborhood for the last ten days. Likewise the trottery proprietors and dancing masters have been hiding out. When it looked like Miss Kelly would stick it out and go to the mat with her mother, a shower of subpoenas descended on Broadway, seeking witnesses pro and con. But the desired witnesses demurred, so much so that one Al Davis and other people of his kind dropped out of sight as though the new subway excavation had yawned and swallowed them.

The lid now goes on the dance places promptly at one o'clock in the morning. There always has been an ordinance closing such resorts at that hour, but only in times of stress has it been enforced. When the gunnied killed Herman Rosenthal in front of the Metropole in Forty-third street three years ago, under the glaring arcs of Broadway, there was great activity among the police. Several notorious restaurants and dance resorts were forced to quit business, and all places were made to close promptly at the hour.

The excitement died down, though, and likewise the vigilance of Inspector Dwyer's men, and again the lobster palates were running half and three quarters of an hour overtime. Then came a row in Jack's famous all night place, and its special license was revoked. Again Broadway closed one hour after midnight.

That incident forgotten, the lid was lifted again and lately the cabarets have been keeping open until two o'clock, some of them until two-thirty.

For the past week, numerous strange faces have been seen nightly in the dance places. They have belonged to solemn looking men, in immaculate evening dress, who have danced little talked less, but who have been keenly observant of all that went on. They are the gentleman sleuths of Inspector Dwyer's Broadway squad. They have been getting evidence upon which the Police Department intends to take a hand in the tango crusade. The dance promoters have become so nervous of late that whenever a strange face is seen, everything becomes as full of smoke as when the fire inspector comes around.

In addition to the police, the Committee of Fourteen is on trial of the trotteries. Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, chairman of the Committee on Amusements resorts, is heading the crusade of that body.

"Evidence with which we closed the old Haymarket was weak in comparison with evidence against seven of the most fashionable and popular places now running on Broadway, which we have in our possession," Mrs. Moskowitz said.

"I have conferred with the mayor's office and find we are in perfect accord. I have arranged for a conference of the Mayor's office, officials of the Police Department and the Bureau of Licenses, and I think we will be successful in closing up many of the notorious places. Dancing for a time on Broadway was on a high level, but it has slipped back."

Miss Elizabeth Marbury was highly indignant when told of the report that

JOHNSON, PLAYING OUTFIELD, TO SHOW TEAMMATES HOW GAMES ARE WON.

WALTER JOHNSON

Washington, June 12.—Walter Johnson, the Washington speed marvel, has lost quite a few games this year, chiefly because his team failed to hit behind him and now Walter has essayed the role of instructor and in order that he may be in a position to give practical lessons in run getting he is playing in the outfield on the days when he is not called upon to pitch. The Big Swede is a fairly good stickler, and it is because of his ability with the willow that Clark Griffith is allowing his star boxman to experiment in the outer garden. Since the experiment was started the Washington crowd have picked up somewhat in team batting, and on at least two occasions timely singles inserted by the big moundman have carried victory to the Senators. If Johnson should ever lose his speed and cunning, he would still be a great ball player, as he has already demonstrated that he can hit and field as well as some outfielders who are rated as stars.

the Strand roof garden was closed because of complaints.

"Nonsense," she exclaimed, "I should think people could find something better to do than spread scandalous gossip about a dance hall that has performed a real social service. The dance hall closed last Saturday for the summer and for no other reason than a business one. The management thought that so many of the young people would go to the beaches during the summer months that it would be advisable to close. The hall will open again October 4."

Miss Anne Morgan corroborated Miss Marbury.

"It is absurd," she said, "to say that the roof dance hall was closed because of criticism. It is true that some complaints were made, to me and to others, but they were investigated and found to be groundless. The hall was closed for business reasons. That is all there is to that. It will be reopened."

"Mrs. Moskowitz believes that the parents are more to be blamed than the boys and girls for the loose morals of the dance resorts."

"You may say for me straight from the shoulder," she said, "that I think the mothers of New York are more responsible than their daughters for the evils of the dance places. The mothers should look after their children closer. I would much rather have a daughter of mine in one of the well conducted tea parlors than in a police court."

HARD TIMES NOT DUE ENTIRELY TO WAR

Many people overlook the indirect effect of industrial depression upon every line of business. Just now, for instance, attention has been directed to the fact that although this country has received enormous orders for shoes for the warring nations of Europe yet the shoe industry is experiencing exceptionally dull times. The reason is not difficult to find. A pair of shoes may easily be made to wear a couple length of time. The man who, in good times, would discard a shabby pair of shoes and buy a new pair, will, in hard times, have a small patch put on the uppers and a new half-sole nailed on, and then wear the repaired shoes until he gets thoroughly ashamed of them. Children whose parents would encourage them to wear shoes in good times, will encourage them to go barefoot when money is scarce. All this makes dull times for the dealer

NEWS OF THE SPORTS WORLD

New York, June 12.—If you don't believe the following story we'll try to find the villain and let you feel the bump on his head.

"I hit myself in the back of the head with my own ball once" goes the story, as it was told by a golfer at the 19th hole. "In playing an approach shot my ball hit against a rock. It bounded back, smashed against a concrete wall and in the rebound caught me in the back of the head."

The story of an almost miraculous cure of hay fever attack is told by a golfer in the June issue of the Golfers Magazine.

The "villain" who was a well known player had a habit of becoming troubled with hay fever every time he played a match and for some odd reason he sneezed the foudest when his opponent was driving.

One day this "hay fever" party engaged in a match with a golfer who stood for the paroxysms of sneezing at each tee until the fourth tee was reached. Then as he stopped to drive, he turned to the hay fever victim just as that person was composing himself for a series of nice, loud sneezes, and said:

"My friend, I'm darned sorry you have hay fever and you have my deepest sympathy, but if you sneeze again while I'm driving I'll bust your nose."

From that moment the hay fever victim's sneezes became silenced.

The open championship victory of Walter Hagan of Rochester, N. Y., has made his name one to conjure with in golfing circles, and that fact resulted in a funny incident on one of the big eastern links recently, says the same publication.

A gentleman with the magic name of Hagan was learning the game at Irving Stringer's indoor golf school, and after he had taken a dozen lessons, he was invited by Stringer to go to a private course not far from the city for an outdoor course.

As they came out of the clubhouse one of them called Hagan by name. "The crowd on the veranda heard the word Hagan, recognized Stringer as a well known professional, and imagined that the champion and three other stars were about to play."

By the time Stringer teed off a crowd of fully a hundred were gathered about him. The two other "professionals" followed and then came Hagan's turn. The crowd turned to watch the supposed champion. Hagan had never been on a links before. He hadn't the faintest idea of how to tee the ball. Hagan swung from his heel missing the ball a foot. Nine times in succession he swung the driver without even touching the ball. Then Stringer, walked by him and whispered, "Put your ball in your pocket and they'll think it's a joke." Hagan reached down, did as he was told and walked away. The gallery roared in merriment.

Those who witnessed the club swinging still think they saw the champion in a joking mood.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE EXHIBIT A SUCCESS

The Oriental entertainment and domestic science exhibition given by the domestic science and practical arts classes of the 7th and 8th grades and the training school, was held yesterday afternoon and evening in Assembly Hall, high school building and was attended by a large number of interested visitors.

The hall was finely decorated by the effective arrangement of chrysanthemums, wisteria, lighted lanterns, parasols, Japanese fans and palms. The young ladies who took part in the exhibition and entertainment were costumed to represent Japanese and Chinese characters. Fans, parasols, banners, dolls and other things added to the effectiveness of the exhibits.

The exhibition of Domestic Arts made by the students of the freshman year of the high school, 8th and 7th grades consisted of displays of hand made dresses, fancy nightgowns, combinations, underwear, embroidery and other fancy and useful articles. This exhibition attracted much favorable comment from those who attended. The cooking exhibit included fish meat and vegetable dishes, salads, cakes, pies, cookies and bread.

The tea room was arranged in oriental style and was effectively decorated with palms, daisies, carnations, roses and chrysanthemums. The tables were small to give the desired oriental effect and were set with fancy centerpieces. Tea, crackers and home made cookies were served the guests.

The tea room was in charge of Miss Gove's class of girls, grade eight; the candy room by the eighth grade girls of Miss Shackley's class; the remainder of the girls, which altogether numbered more than 200, had charge of the exhibition and assembly hall and the kitchen. The girls in the kitchen were dressed in all white uniform consisting of dresses, caps, shoes, stockings and aprons. The tea room girls and the ushers were dressed in oriental costumes.

The Oriental entertainment was as follows:

Grand March, participated in by all the girls, Japanese Hymn and the conclusion of the march. Lantern dance by the Japanese Maidens. Japanese Shuttlecock and battledore game. Dance by the training school girls. Dance, Fan dance and Lullaby, by the tea room attendants. Dance by the Uniform girls; Chinese songs and games. Grand march.

This exhibition and entertainment was the first of its kind in this city and it was a grand success. It gave the people of Portsmouth an opportunity to see the progress and the efficiency of the students in these very important branches of education. The attendance in the afternoon was very large while that of the evening was even bigger.

Miss May Martin, the instructor in the Domestic Arts in the schools was in charge of the entire exhibition and entertainment and also deserves much credit for the fine work of the girls, both in their entertainment and in the products of their own hands that were on exhibition.

The music for the entertainment was furnished by the Boy's Orchestra under the direction of Stanley Gilkey.

WOLGAST WILL MEET GALLANT

When Ad Wolgast, former light-weight champion of the world, and Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea, rambles in to the Atlas A. A. ring next Tuesday night the members of the club will see a spirited and strenuous contest.

Past performances of these great little men indicate that the coming mill will be a genuine one. Flows will fall thick and fast; the toe to toe style will be depicted in a clear manner, and the mill will be one that should cause every man interested in the boxing game to long to be at the ringside.

Wolgast to his halcyon days made the Durable Dane, Bat Nelson, dip his flag to him. Few have been able to do that. The match went along over the marathon route and the game battles fought as if their lives depended on the mill.

True Wolgast lent to Ritchie, but the honors were going his way, when he was set back for the native son. That Ritchie had and still has a lot of respect for him is evidenced by the fact that he has passed up all opportunities to meet Wolgast the marathon route since then.

Built along the same lines, Wolgast and Gallant should deliver the goods in a way that the members should experience all sorts of thrills.

Short, thick set and built to endure a contest stubbornly contested from the outset to the finish is sure to develop. Short punches, which will carry abundant sting, will be much in evidence and there will be no backing away. Here is where a contest looms up with all the trimmings that go with it, and it is a well known fact that the fans appreciate what has been prepared for them. The outburst of applause which followed the announcement of the coming event was ample testimony of their approval.

It is a long time since Wolgast has been seen in Boston. He called once and fought Mitty Raitain 12 terrific rounds. It was called a draw, but Wolgast was well in front when the contest ended; it was a present for Baldwin when he received a draw verdict just as the draw was the referee ord-

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, June 12—Mayor McDonald of Beverly's secretary of the Curtis Guild Memorial committee, has received a letter from Governor Walsh who indorses the movement. The Governor says in part: "I am glad to note by the newspapers that the Curtis Guild Memorial fund has appealed to the generous hearts of those who loved Governor Guild, as we were sure it would. To have known Curtis Guild intimately is to possess a treasury of memories that none of us will part with willingly, and I am sure all that is necessary to complete the fund is to let his friends everywhere know of its existence."

Two score or more distinguished Pan-Americans each one of them a representative business man of Latin America, accompanied by secretaries, representatives of the United States treasury department and newspaper men, are in Boston and are being entertained by the Boston Chamber of Commerce. The representatives from South America were among those who were delegates to the recent Pan-American Financial Conference in Washington were suggestions of the almost significance to the port of Boston were discussed. The delegates will meet and talk over with the New England business men and manufacturers the ways and means of interesting New England trade with South America.

Governor Walsh has re-appointed James W. Sydnor of Springfield a member of the Highway Commission. John M. Sheedy of Salem was re-appointed a master in chancery in Essex. The selection of a chief of the district police, the public service commission, and juvenile court vacancies are still open. For all three positions there are a swarm of candidates backed by long lists of endorser.

The anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill on June 17 will be celebrated with banquets, fireworks, band concerts open houses, and a military and naval parade on the afternoon of the holiday. It is expected that 3,500 bluejackets and marines from the 3d division of the Atlantic fleet, now at the Charlestown navy yard will march. A large turnout of the Coast Artillery attached to the harbor forts has been ordered to participate. The exercises will begin with the anniversary service of the Bunker Hill Chapter, D. A. R. in commemoration of the Battle of Bunker Hill in the Old First Parish church, Harvard Square, Charlestown, Sunday afternoon. The next exercises will be held at six o'clock on the night before the holiday at the Bunker Hill Monument, conducted by King Solomon Lodge of Masons. Three banquets will be held in various halls throughout the district on Wednesday evening at which time men prominent in nation, state, and city affairs will be present and deliver addresses. Former Congressman Martin W. Littleton of New York will be the orator at the banquet of the Hayes Square Outing Club to be held in the Charlestown High school. Cardinal O'Connell may attend the banquet of St. Mary's Holy Name Club on the same evening.

THE LABORATORY KITCHEN

There was a time, we are told, when women made cooking an art, when they invented recipes, and knew as much about the elements of good living as a chemist about his hieroglyphs. Then there was a kind of interregnum when it was referred to as a drudgery and now it seems to be growing into a science. The girl of today is inclined to regard her kitchen as a laboratory and cook by formulae and not by guess.

In pursuance of this ideal she has everything scientifically clean. In place of euphorbia under the sink she has open plumbing; in place of dingy rags, she has dish-mops and brushes; in place of coarse yellow smelly soap she has chemicals and ammonia, and in place of the shining tin—which so quickly grew unshining despite all your polishing—she now has snow-white enameled ware pans, sauce-kettles, tea kettles, coffee-pots, strainers baking dishes muffin pans.

When she goes into that kitchen to cook breakfast she is as likely as not to wear a boudoir cap and a lace-trimmed morning jacket; when she cooks a dinner there she slips a sieved painting-smock or a big apron of rose bud print over her afternoon gown and pops things into the oven, and stirs vegetables with quick, deft fingers handling a white spoon. It is science, and it gets scientific results.

CANNOT USE GARAGE PERMITS

Says Jitneys Need No Special License.

The following letter on motor vehicles has been issued by State Commissioner Arthur L. Willis:

Attention has been called to a special article in a recent issue headed "Jitney Busses Must Have Special Licenses," and I fear that in attempting to answer questions as to various features of the automobile law, in a brief telephone conversation I did not make myself clear on some points as I should have. Briefly stated these are the rights afforded to the various classes of automobile registration:

Regular registration—full fee paid, based on horse-power; unlimited rights either for pleasure driving, or for the carrying on of livery, passenger carrying or commercial work.

Commercial cars—(further registration prohibited May 1st)—fee $10; use limited strictly to livery, passenger carrying or commercial work; pleasure driving prohibited.

Dealer's registration—fee, $25.00; use limited to actual dealing in motor vehicles; use for outside purposes, and especially for livery, passenger carrying prohibited.

This brief summary will explain perhaps, what classes of registration may be used by jitney busses without violation of the law. There is no special license for the jitney bus.

WILL REBUILD BURNED AREA

Exeter Firms Burned Out by Recent Fire to Begin Anew.

Exeter will soon revive from the telling blow struck to her industries by the fire of Wednesday morning, for close onto the decision of the Parker and Webster company to rebuild their lumber plant the Exeter board of trade held a meeting Thursday evening in the probate court room and appointed a committee to take steps toward procuring a building for the C. A. Cosson shoe factory site which was totally destroyed.

This committee is composed of Augustus W. Young, George D. Baxter, John H. Symonds, John R. Donald and Albert B. McNeil, and is emphatically announced that some provisions will be made for the company. The fire has, however, temporarily made a serious setback, as it will require some time to get affairs into working order. Unoccupied buildings are scarce, but if one cannot be procured it is likely that the committee will decide to build in the neighborhood of where the burned building was situated.

In a few weeks the citizens are informed that the industrial line will look as promising as it did previous to the fire. The Exeter Canning factory is well along towards completion, the frame of the building being nearly covered.

Should We Interfere?

Leo M. Frank, a murderer, convicted by a jury of his peers in the courts of Georgia and sentenced to be executed for the crime of murder, is having a strong fight made for him today by certain classes of people throughout the country. These people are evidently laboring under the delusion that the state of Georgia is not able to handle its own business properly and that they must step in and do their duty.

Before the case had proceeded as far as it has at present, an appeal was made to the United States supreme court, the highest tribunal in the country, and this body of men handed down a decision to the effect that Frank was convicted of the crime with which he was charged and the State of Georgia was right in doing as it saw fit.

After all that the influence of some persons was enlisted and appeals made broadcast throughout the country. These resulted in signed appeals being sent to the Georgia board which has the right to recommend clemency. The board decided that Frank must die. Now the case is up to Governor Slaton.

Why must the governor of the state of Georgia listen to appeals on a matter that affects the life of one of her own convicted murderers? Look at the matter from another angle. Take this state of ours. Suppose that New Hampshire had been the scene of a murder and that the courts had convicted some man of the crime and the judge of the court had sentenced this convicted murderer to be executed. Would the state of New Hampshire for a single moment allow delegations from the southern states, Georgia, the Carolinas, Virginia, or any other, to come here and demand that the governor of New Hampshire commute the sentence to life imprisonment? Every voter in the state would demand that these delegations be invited to return to their own homes and allow the people of New Hampshire to conduct their own business as they saw fit. The cases are similar. New England has no more right to attempt to dictate to the state of Georgia than the state of Georgia has to attempt to settle our problem of the Boston & Maine Railroad situation. Governor Slaton has been much more of a gentleman than many of the governors of the north would have been under the same circumstances.

A Belligerent Clergyman.

The disturbing and unbalancing effects of war were illustrated emphatically in an address delivered last Sunday before a Young Men's Christian Association in New York by a minister of the gospel. His talk showed that he has passed way beyond the line of neutrality, that he is out and out against Germany and would not object to seeing the United States get into the fray—in the interest of peace and humanity, of course.

This professed follower of the Prince of Peace reminded his young and impressionable hearers that the United States has a great reservoir of power—economic, moral, spiritual and physical—to bring Germany to her senses. He proposes a council of the neutral and warring nations for the restoration of peace, and said that in case Germany refused to join, the United States should openly take her place on the side of the allies and enter the fight is necessary. "If," he said, "we cannot bring Germany to join a council of powers to seek peace for the world we may have to draw the sword, and, having once drawn it, we will not sheathe it again for ten years, if need be." The speaker admitted that he secretly prayed that Italy might enter the war, declared it was time to put an end to our hypocrisy of pretended neutrality and said that "if this country does go into the war it must be upon a 'high plane,' for the purpose of helping humanity in a cause in which oppression is arrayed against freedom." He added that the United States by getting into the war might greatly shorten the struggle and save a million lives.

This is hardly the language one would expect from a minister of the gospel in a Sunday address to young men. To the average man it seems that there is already sufficient excitement and feeling in this country without fanning the flame. There are enough influences to stir up prejudice and passion, and the pulpit should not lend itself to this work. This paper cannot escape the feeling that the address of this minister was in extremely bad taste. In the minds of many the church as an institution has suffered severely as one of the results of this war, and outgivings like that of this New York divine will only make a bad matter worse. He is not in a position to stop the war, but he is in a position to stop talk that will do much more harm than good, and if he is as interested in the welfare of the world as he professes to be he will do it.

A Jamaica, N. Y., woman who was before the court the other day charged with drunkenness, threatening the lives of her children and chasing her husband with a carving knife, was sentenced to sobriety for life and that ended the case for the time being. It is more than probable, however, that she will take an appeal from the sentence at the first favorable opportunity.

Robert Lansing a Source of Expert Advice For President.

When Robert Lansing was selected as acting secretary of state it was revealed that he has been President Wilson's constant adviser throughout the complications which have arisen in international situations. It is he who has prepared much of the lengthy international correspondence of the last six months. The president has turned to Mr. Lansing for the only expert advice he has sought since international questions became critical. He was the only member who had been invited to sit at the cabinet table and to discuss questions of national or international policy since the Spanish-American war, when President McKinley came to rely on William R. Day, then assistant secretary of state, during the illness of Secretary John Sherman.

HALL MAY GET BENTON'S JOB

Was Picked to Head the New Excise Board.

The latest talk is that Dwight Hall, head of the Republican state committee, is the new choice for public service commissioner, to succeed Commissioner John B. Benton. Hall has been considered as one of the sure choice commissioners, but he appears now to be picked for the better part of which the state can expect more work with it.

Hall's entrance in the list of public service commissioner possibilities is made by the fact that he is being made for the appointment of Judge Oscar L. Young of Taunton for the public service job and by many he was thought to be the likely choice of the governor. Hall had not been mentioned for the place on Thursday, but the announcement came with every appearance of being semi-official information.

MAKING MONEY GO A LONG WAY

National advertisers are sometimes persuaded that they can make their "money go farther" if they do not use newspapers.

Frequently they make it go so far THAT IT NEVER COMES BACK.

Newspaper advertising on the other hand brings immediate, definite returns—returns that can be weighed and measured. The returns directly sell the goods, they enthrall the dealer, they pay the advertiser. National advertisers need newspapers.

Inquiries directed to the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York, will bring "Reasons Why."

ROOSEVELT LAUDS THE PRESIDENT

Comments on Bryan's Resignation and Pledges Support.

New Orleans, June 11—Applauding President Wilson for his stand in the disagreement with Secretary Bryan, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in a signed statement received here tonight from Breton Island, La., pledged his support to the President in all steps he may take to uphold the interests of the United States.

"According to Mr. Bryan's statement," Colonel Roosevelt says, "he has left the Cabinet because President Wilson, as regards the matters at issue with Germany refuses to follow the precedent set in the 30 all-inclusive arbitration commission (ratified recently negotiated, and declares to suspend action for a year while a neutral commission investigates the admitted murder of American men, women and children on the high seas, and further declines to forbid American citizens to travel on neutral ships in accordance with the conditions guaranteed to us by Germany herself in solemn treaty."

"Of course I heartily applaud the decision of the President, and in common with all other Americans who are loyal to the traditions handed down by the men who served under Washington, and by the others who followed Grant and Lee in the days of Lincoln, I pledge him my heartiest support in all the steps he takes to uphold the honor and the interests of this great republic which are bound up with the maintenance of democratic liberty and of a wise spirit of humanity among all the nations of mankind."

Colonel Roosevelt was told of Sec. Bryan's resignation last Thursday when several members of the Louisiana Conservation committee joined the Parker-Roosevelt party at Battledore Island. On receiving a bundle of newspapers, the first he had seen in several days, Colonel Roosevelt inquired:

"Has war broken out? Had I better return immediately?"

He made no comment on the resignation of Mr. Bryan other than his written statement which was prepared today.

CURRENT OPINION

Foreign Born Citizens Owe a Debt to the Land of Their Adoption.

It takes five years to make an American citizen of an immigrant. This society (German Social-Scientific) is forty-five years old. I feel that it is therefore Americanized, and I speak to you as Americans, and I plead with you in these times to look at things from an American standpoint. Don't boast so much of what Germans have done for America because it will be very wise to remember that America has done as much and more for you. You have been repaid for all you brought to your neighbors on this side of the water.

I know that there move in our good society Germans who never become American citizens. They are unworthy when they use the advantages this great and good country holds out to them to enrich themselves without assuming the responsibilities they should bear as citizens of a country that has opened her arms to them.

Remember, you owe a debt to America. You are not Germans; you are Americans. American idealism is yours. President Wilson has told you American idealism is the idealism of humanity.—By Dr. Abraham Jacob, Former President American Medical Association.

As most of those entering wait until after their high school graduation before applying for admission to the normal school, it is believed to be very certain that the Keene normal will be taxed to its fullest capacity to September. Among those who have already been admitted to the entering class are pupils from Manchester, Nashua, Franklin, Stratford, Winchester and Keene.

LEBANON MAN PARDONED

Comes as Big Surprise After 14 Years in Prison.

Concord, June 11—Frederick A. Davis of Lebanon, whose address however, has been in the state prison for some time, was the most surprised man in Concord today when he was notified that he had been pardoned and was at liberty to return to his home.

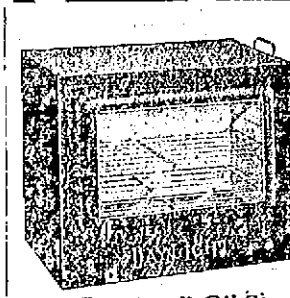

The governor and council granted the pardon today. Representative Thomas P. Waterman of Lebanon has been quietly working in Davis' behalf and was here today, awaiting the decision of the executive council and when this was made he went to the prison and was present when Davis was notified that he was a free man. Then he accompanied Davis to Lebanon.

Davis had served 14 years of a 20 year sentence for criminal assault. He has been a model prisoner and has been "trouble" for several years. He had no idea whatever that any effort was being made to free him.

LOCAL SONGWRITER SCORES HIT

James C. Osborne, leader at the Portsmouth Theatre, has written a song entitled "Longing For You," which has just been published by Harwood-Freeman Co. It promises to prove a big hit with the music loving public.

GOOD WORK THAT DID IT

Portsmouth Was the Unanimous Choice for the Convention.

The following communication to the chairman of the executive committee of the New Hampshire Fireman's Relief Association, shows that Asst. Engineer J. W. Varrell of this city, as a delegate to the recent meeting of the state board was alive and had a lot of hard work to convince the committee to name Portsmouth as the place for the convention in September.

The city of Nashua made a good fight for the big meeting and the communication from the Board of Trade of that city was all that any city could offer, still it was a unanimous vote for Portsmouth:

The Nashua Board of Trade,

Nashua, N. H.

April 30, 1915.

Mr. Thomas Lane,
Chairman of the Executive Committee,
New Hampshire Fireman's Relief Association,
Manchester, N. H.

Dear Sir:

I understand from the committee of the local Relief Association that they have tendered an invitation to your association to hold their next annual convention in Nashua. I wish to second this invitation on the part of the Board of Trade of Nashua. As I understand it the association has not held its annual gathering in Nashua for perhaps 15 years, we are certainly very much interested in your body and wish you to know that by extending this invitation it is not entirely selfishness on our part. It is with the desire that we may see, meet and entertain you as I believe Nashua is capable of doing. In order that you may have a pleasant gathering and one that will be of good to your honorable body. We therefore most heartily unite with the local association in extending this invitation and assure you of a most cordial welcome. Hoping that you will look favorably upon our urgent appeal and make Nashua your meeting place for the 25th of September next, I beg to remain with best wishes for the prosperity of your association.

Yours very truly—

EDWARD G. OSGOOD,

Sec'y, Nashua Board of Trade

AT HAMPTON BEACH.

Sunday Programme—Ocean Boulevard in Fine Shape.

The commencement of work upon the new section of state highway, and which will be another connecting link in the ocean boulevard between Salisbury Junction, Mass., and the mile long bridge across Hampton river is regarded as a most auspicious undertaking by motorists who use the road during the summer months.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure No Alum
No Lime Phosphate

Work was commenced on Monday and a long stretch of roadway has been ploughed up on the Salisbury end of the highway. The work will be continued as far as the bridge, and the sum of $10,000 will be expended under the direction of the state highway commission. The stretch of road now being renovated lies in two towns, Seabrook and Hampton, and for a long time it has been in a terrible state, motor vehicles often becoming stuck fast in the deep sand.

Plans for Sunday at this resort include two band concerts by the musicians of Higgins Band at the Casino bandstand. These will be given in the afternoon. The band members are taking up their residence here and many will enjoy camp life in Nudd's field as in former seasons, where there is each year a large tent colony.

An important social event of the week along the North Shore was an outing arranged by Mrs. William W. Roberts of the Tenor mansion at Salisbury Beach, Mass., the neighboring shore resort. The affair was complimentary to the members of the Saturday night bridge club, and was largely attended. Mrs. Roberts has now been joined by Mrs. Tener, her sister, and wife of former Governor John K. Tener of Harrisburg, Penn., who will spend the summer season in this vicinity.

All roads led to this resort on Wednesday upon the occasion of the outing of the Men's League which was an important event. The guests comprised members of the United Congregational church of Lawrence, Mass., and the journey was made by automobiles, Haverhill, Amesbury and other points being included in the itinerary. A feature of the affair was a bowling contest with Herbert Waples and Ernest A. Anderson as captains, each bowling three strings, with the former team winning out.

Later all adjourned to Littlefields, where a shore dinner was served. In the party were: Ellis Laycock, George A. Thayer, Allison F. Stone, H. G. Mauck, Burton D. Todd, John A. Andrew, Samuel G. Logan, H. L. Mellor, M. B. Messerve, James A. Hyde, Robert S. Houston, John Ashton, H. A. Howarth, Fred Mitchell, Frank L. Parthurst, St. Clair Crouse, Herbert Waples, Frank K. Chase, Hugh Houston.

Members of the Embroidery Club of Lawrence, Mass., are enjoying an outing of several days at this resort, occupying one of the cottages at the north beach. Over Sunday the gentlemen will be entertained.

ONLY THREE FINISHED

In Endurance Run Held by Portsmouth Motorcycle Club.

The returns of the Portsmouth Motorcycle Club's endurance run, held Sunday, June 6, shows only three perfect scores out of eight contestants.

At the start, Pierce had tire trouble, which he was thirty minutes in overcoming, but was one of the first reaching Manchester, the first checking station. A freeman tried conclusions with an automobile on Market square and decided to quit the run at this point. The road between this city and Manchester is very sandy but all were able to check in on time. From Manchester to Lowell it was a joy ride, but after leaving Lowell, the contestants commenced to have their troubles as it soon commenced to rain, making the riding very disagreeable as well as dangerous; nevertheless at Cambridge all were in possession of their perfect scores.

After leaving Cambridge, Pierce had trouble with his spark plugs and decided to quit at Lynn, everybody else reaching Beverly on schedule time. It took the staid old city of Newburyport to pull down the scores, for when the rain soaked riders struck High street, they found it actually swimming in tar, which resulted in bad spills.

When the referee closed the checking station at the post office, only three riders had checked within the allotted time for the 171 miles covered, these all finishing with perfect scores.

GUARD COAST WITH 33 AERO SCOUTS

Young Hammonnd Makes Novel Pro- position for Our Defence.

John Hays Hammond, Jr., of Gloucester, the radio expert, has submitted to the Aero Club of America, a detailed plan to provide, for coast defense, aeroplanes equipped with wireless, and a chain of radio stations, which will make it possible with 33 aeroplanes and the same number of radio stations to provide protection to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and the Mexican border.

Mr. Hammond is a member of the club, and being deeply interested in providing adequate national defense, offered to co-operate in developing the club's plans to provide aviation corps for the national guard and naval militia of each state.

In his proposal to the governors to extend the efficiency of aeroplanes for coast defense by the application of radio systems to aeroplanes, Mr. Hammond says:

"As chairman of the sub-committee of the Langley aerodynamical committee, I am much interested in the application of radio systems to aeroplanes. I believe that the combination of these two branches of science will prove invaluable as adjuncts in the protection of our country. With the congressional apathy existing in matters of national defense, it is necessary that we apply directly to our citizens to stimulate action in this matter. With our extensive coast line and our limited and low-speed navy, it is essential that our scouting facilities be extraordinarily efficient. With a well-organized scout system to cover our coast line, our fleet and our forces can co-operate with greater unity against the enemy in his landing operations. The intent of the enemy's maneuvers and his ultimate objective could only be ascertained by aerial information, and with adequate information the limited force which the nation possesses could be used to its best advantage. I take the liberty of suggesting, therefore, a rough plan of action in the organization of a system for patrolling our coast, which would eliminate the possibility of a surprise attack upon any particular section of our coastal territory.

"I would draw your attention to an enclosed sketch which shows the north eastern division of our coast line. I have shown five areas of 50 miles radius constituting the patrol areas for five aero scouts. In the center (approximately) of each area is situated a radio receiving station connected with land lines. Each aero scout is equipped with a radio transmitter of 50 miles daylight radius. Each scout is in constant communication with his central radio station, and each station is directly connected by phone or telegraph with the existing land system. The movements of ships, their disposition and the strategy of the enemy will be readily discovered with the information obtained from scouts covering such an extended front. An intelligent understanding of the enemy's purpose would be gained, and our forces could be concentrated at decisive points to meet the invader.

"From New York to Mt. Desert five areas would be located. From New York to the Mexican border 17 areas would be established, and on the Pacific coast there would be 11 more. It would be necessary, therefore, for the complete organization to have 33 aero scouts to cover the entire coast line of the United States. In any war, however, it is likely that a single nation would be the enemy, that only one coast need be actively guarded, in which case the balance of the scouts form a valuable reserve.

"It is obvious that a number of existing radio stations could be used in this work, and also existing buildings for receiving stations.

"The Chaffee system for wireless telegraphy is, in my opinion, the most suitable type of installation, for the following reasons:

- 1—Simplicity of operation.
- 2—No knowledge of Morse code needed.
- 3—Compactness.
- 4—Lightness.
- 5—Its ability to give large power in small details.

The governors of the Aero Club consider Mr. Hammond's proposal of great importance. Under proper conditions, this may produce a valuable adjunct to our defense system. The proposal, therefore, will be submitted to the heads of the national guard and naval militia of the states who are co-operating with the club in developing aviation corps for the national guard and naval militia.

ONE OF THE WITNESSES

Former Portsmouth Nurse Called in the Haverhill Case.

At the Haverhill hospital inquiry in which Miss Alice G. Marshall, superintendent, is charged with incompetency, etc. Mrs. Bessie LeGrow a nurse, formerly of this city was one of the principal witnesses called in the hearing on Friday.

She told of becoming interested in the hospital and of securing a Victrola for the amusement of the patients. After that, she said she frequently visited the institution.

"I considered the patients to be very very happy," Mrs. LeGrow continued. "I have been in many institutions and I never saw one better regulated—in most perfect harmony."

Mrs. LeGrow spoke of seeing at the hospital, Miss Margaret Meloy, a nurse discharged by Miss Marshall, and one of the principal witnesses against her. Miss Meloy she testified spoke highly of Miss Marshall and during one of the witnesses' visits told of a plan about to make a birthday cake for Miss Marshall—a plan in which Miss Meloy played a leading part.

Scott Peters then took Mrs. LeGrow for cross examination.

"Then you didn't see Frank O. Freeman sitting in Miss Marshall's lap when you visited the hospital or see him kissing her, or pinching her cheeks, or slapping her?" he inquired.

"No," replied the witness in a voice of disdain.

With equal show of displeasure for her interrogator, she denied seeing any of the nurses kissing or knowing anything about beer or whiskey being served to patients in the hospital.

LEAVE BODY IN WELL TILL REFEREE ARRIVES

BELMONT MAN MISSING SINCE THURSDAY MORNING

A body discovered late last evening in a well near the Sanborn home in Belmont, N. H., is believed to be that of Edgar Sanborn, who had been missing since Thursday.

The body was left in the well for the night, however, in order that Medical Referee Adams might be present when it is taken out. Identification has, therefore, not been made nor is there any information as to the manner in which the man went to death.

Sanborn, a man about 50 years of age, was seen early in the day setting out some plants. He did not return home at night, and search led to the finding of the body.

WEST POINTERS GRADUATE

West Point, N. Y. June 12—One hundred and sixty four candidates were graduated from the United States Military Academy here today. There were many reunions of many of the older members, the gathering being the largest of any year except the centennial. There was great enthusiasm.

So large is the graduating class this year that the 105 prospective vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant in the army are not near enough to go around. However Uncle Sam will keep all promising young men in his service and second lieutenants will be found for them later.

Next Monday the other three classes will move into where they will remain until August 26.

ANTI-AMERICAN SPIRIT RISES IN MEXICO

Washington, June 11—Feeling against Americans is being exhibited at the Mexican west coast ports of Manzanillo and Mazatlan, held by Carranza forces, according to radiograms from Admiral Howard, on the Colorado, at San Diego today. No overt acts of any kind have been reported, however. Villa forces remaining in the southern district of Lower California are said to be expressing willingness to leave for Guaymas, Sonora, without further fighting. The steamer Korrigan II, which recently was commandeered by the Carranza forces from the Bolca Company, a French mining concern of Santa

BOY SCOUTS ORGANIZE

Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, Fully Organized.

Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America, Portsmouth, N. H., is fully organized with a membership of twenty-four boys. The work was begun in organizing these boys some time ago under the leadership of Forrest E. Drake, who is interested in the Scout movement and the welfare of the boys.

Mr. Drake has already held commissions as Assistant Scout Master of a troop in Dorchester, Mass., and of Troop 1, Portsmouth, recently resigning from that troop to take up the work of organizing Troop 2, which is connected with the Middle Street Baptist church. Being urged by Rev. William P. Stanley, pastor of the church, to take up the Boy Scout movement in his parish, of which the greater majority of the boys attend, was gratefully accepted by Mr. Drake. He is well adapted for the commission as Scout Master, owing to his knowledge of the Boy Scout work and its activities.

When a troop is organized there are to be committees of three prominent men of the locality to help and cooperate with the Scout Master in carrying out the Scout program.

The troop committee consists of Rev. William P. Stanley, P. W. Hartford and Lewis E. Staples.

Scout Master—Forrest E. Drake. Assistant Scout Masters—Sidney Rand and W. W. Schuman.

The following are names of the boys that are already enrolled: Forrest Burke, Francis Burke, James Burke, Melvin Chandler, Fred Eldridge, Harold Elliott, George Eldridge, Emerson Gilmore, Hubert Fielding, Eugene McDonald, Edward Moulton, Paul Redden, Clarence Redden, George Rand, Parker Schuman, Francis Walker, Wyatt Wendell, Arthur Weeks, Kenneth Young, Herbert Yeaton, George Fraser, Raymond Hogan, Stephen Catlin, George P. Benjamin.

The following are boys who already have taken the Scout oath and passed the Tenderfoot examinations: Fred Eldridge, Eugene McDonald, Paul Redden, Clarence Redden, George Rand, Wyatt Wendell, Herbert Yeaton and Harold Elliott. The latter is a First-Class Scout and has passed tenderfoot, second-class and third-class examinations. For a boy to become a Scout he must take the Scout oath and pass the tenderfoot examinations, otherwise he is only a candidate for a Scout.

THIS MAN WAS LUCKY

Nearly Hit by Flying Cylinder Head of Locomotive.

William Kierstein of Dover, assistant block signal maintainer on the Boston and Maine railroad between Rollinsford and Newfields, escaped death by a narrow margin when a cylinder head of a passing locomotive flew off, partially demolishing the signal on which he was working. The accident happened at the Lampry river bridge, Newmarket. Mr. Kierstein was cleaning the batteries of a signal when train No. 7 due in Dover at 8:23 o'clock in charge of Conductor Edward Roberts was passing. Attracted by the noise the loose mechanism was making as the train approached the signal, Mr. Kierstein at once realized his peril and leaped into the trench beside the track. The disconnected part of the cylinder flew off, hit the signal standard a glancing blow and landed in the exact spot where the signalman had been working. The engineer could not understand how Kierstein escaped and thought that he was hurried down the embankment by the flying part.

"NIX ON THE WAR."

Prince of Peace Gets His Bumps on Russell Street.

"Nix on the war" says a young resident of the North End district, in the future.

Never again will he act as Prince of Peace. It all happened near the head of Russell street where two sons of Sunny Italy were in a wrangle over the European war. The peace maker arrived on the scene just as the argument reached a heated point and uttered just three words, "You go home" which caused him to get his bumps. The war debaters thought he told them to navigate to the hot regions and they forgot the war and both took wallop at him. The last seen of him was in a marathon on Maplewood avenue and he never made better time at sprinting before in his life. He says it's "safety first" with him now and he has no anxiety to butt in on any more war arguments.

ANOTHER SUFFRAGE COUNTRY

Denmark is the second independent nation to grant full suffrage to women, Norway having been the first. Women enjoy parliamentary suffrage also in Finland, Bosnia, Australia and New Zealand, but all these are dependencies of other powers. Incidentally, the enfranchisement of Denmark's women shows once more the tendency of equal suffrage to spread from one neighboring State to another, which has been so marked in America. If it had worked badly in Norway, Denmark would not have adopted it.
